Daily Devotional Available Online From Pacific Press®

Nampa, Idaho (February 1, 2011) — Pacific Press® announced today that it now offers an online daily devotional reading to church members across North America. In conjunction with netAdventist, which provides the Adventist church with a common communication platform, the Pacific Press® devotional readings will be taken from a lineup of best sellers and will be updated with fresh content each day.

Director of Electronic Marketing at Pacific Press®, Stephen Ertel says, "All churches, schools, conferences and ministries that use netAdventist will be able to add this daily devotional to their existing site. Non-netAdventist sites can still take advantage of this service via an RSS feed."

Response from authors has been positive. Shelley Quinn, speaker and program development manager for 3ABN said, "What a wonderful gift this is to church members around the world. I am delighted that Pacific Press® has included Pressing in to His Presence in this endeavor."

Beverly Logan, Director of Trade Marketing adds, "This is an awesome way to introduce readers to many of the books we offer. I have no doubt this will prove a blessing to everyone who takes advantage of this great service."
